FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT TRAINING PROGRAM

1. The Agency is faced with the problem of meeting a continuing large, and potentially increasing, workload in the face of tightened or diminished dollar and manpower resources. Coping with this problem calls for greater skill in the management of financial resources. In support of that requirement, an intensified financial training program is being offered. More specifically, the objectives of this training program are:
 - a. To increase awareness in Agency personnel of the importance of resource management and of the budgetary process.
 - b. To improve the timeliness, accuracy, utility, and general understanding of the Agency's accounting system through instruction on the procedures and techniques used in the accounting system, including the processing by computer of such data.
 - c. To improve the management of scarce resources throughout the Agency by instruction on the managerial utility of financial reports.
2. The Financial Management Training Program consists of four courses:
 - a. Survey of Financial Management

The overview or total picture of the Agency's financial objectives; system philosophy, structure, and cycle; and the interrelationships of all types of decision making data.

b. Fundamentals of Budgeting

(1) the techniques used in formulating the Agency budget and
(2) the automated processing of budget data.

c. Accounting Control

(1) the Agency's general accounting system including the account structure,
(2) ledgers, and (3) allotment, obligation,
and expenditure processes.

d. Applied Financial Management

The analysis of financial reports and the uses of the Agency's financial system for managerial planning and control purposes.

3. This program is open to all Agency employees. The courses are designed to be taken sequentially. However, those who need only an overview of the financial management process and an understanding of financial reports and their utility may limit their enrollment to courses a and d.
